Privacy Statement

Essex Police is committed to safeguarding the privacy of visitors to this web site.

Personal details

All information provided to Essex Police via our website will be treated in confidence and will not be disclosed to third parties unless required to do so by law.

Where the provision of personal data is required to enable us to provide a specific service to the user the details will only be used for the stated purpose.

All communications with Essex Police may be monitored for the purposes of public safety, the prevention and detection of crime and the apprehension and prosecution of offenders.

Non-personal usage statistics

Essex Police collects non-personalised statistics generated by an automated monitoring program and reserves the right to analyse this information to improve the site.

This information includes the number of pages viewed, the length of time viewed and errors encountered. No details are gathered which would reveal personal details either directly or via a third party.

Hyperlinks

This website contains many hyperlinks to other sites that are not owned or operated by Essex Police.

The purpose of these links is to offer further information about a topic or organisation which we cannot include in our own site.

Links made to other websites are regularly reviewed for suitability and we reserve the right to add or remove links from our website at any time.

When a visitor is about to leave the Essex Police website using such a hyperlink, every effort will be made to warn you.

A link to an external web site will always open in a new browser window to indicate the site is separate from the Essex Police site.

We are not responsible for the content or privacy practices of external websites and suggest you refer to the home pages of these sites for information on their privacy policies.
